

The non-backtracking random walk on a graph

Sasha Sodin

Tel Aviv University, Israel

From some points of view, the non-backtracking walk on a graph is “more random” than the usual random walk: that is, more similar to independent sampling from the set of vertices. We will introduce the non-backtracking random walk and discuss its properties.

joint work with N. Alon, I. Benjamini, and E. Lubetzky.